

Science is beautiful.

Our Purpose

Supported by an extraordinary collaboration of scientists, forward thinking physicians, and labs, Omni Bioceutical Innovations produces superior growth factor proteins, amino acids, peptides, and other proteins for use in skin and hair products. Using the highest quality ingredients, our groundbreaking treatments:

- Dramatically reduce downtime following ablative laser procedures
- Aid in cell regeneration
- Encourage collagen and elastin production
- Nourish and rejuvenate hair follicles
- Reduce inflammation

What Sets Us Apart

Our exclusive licenses and patents deliver unique solutions

Our physician-paired treatments are unrivaled in effectiveness

Our patented delivery molecule M-007® is revolutionary

Our targeted growth factors address specific needs

Our cultivation process (HPL) produces the highest quality cell growth, without animal byproducts

The Omni Difference

STEM CELL INNOVATION

Research into the phenomenal regenerative power of stem cells has led to rapid and exciting innovations for skin and hair health. At Omni, we developed our fibroblast-derived stem cell treatments based on the study and science of wound healing, where scientists and physicians have been able to facilitate the regeneration of even the most damaged skin, bone, and tissue. This research has taught us that the family of naturally occurring key signaling proteins known as “growth factors” are the body’s first responders when damage in the body is detected. At Omni, we cultivate and process these proteins, selecting specific, anti-inflammatory, regenerative growth factors so we can enhance the regenerative power of the body’s own repair response.

REDUCING INFLAMMATION

Reducing inflammation is the number one line of defense against age, stress, pollution, and many skin ailments. When cultivating our growth factor proteins, we stand alone in our ability to select those proteins that are anti-inflammatory, because we know reducing inflammation in the skin, the body’s largest organ, can produce a significant improvement.

OUR MOLECULAR DELIVERY SYSTEM

Not satisfied with simply being at the forefront of regenerative growth factor and peptide technology, Omni undertook the challenge of maximizing the absorption of these miraculous proteins for at-home use. This technological pursuit resulted in the patented signaling molecule, M-007®.

The Delivery – M-007[®]

The skin is a marvelous, multi-functional structure, and one of its tasks is to act as a barrier against foreign substances that would otherwise be harmful to its underlying structures. This is why skin or hair care products tend to sit on the dead layer of cells at the surface, producing little if any results. At Omni, we were intent on not only being able to formulate the perfect ingredients, but we also endeavored to innovate a delivery system that would dramatically increase the depth of absorption of those ingredients.

The result: the introduction of M-007[®], a patented molecular delivery technology

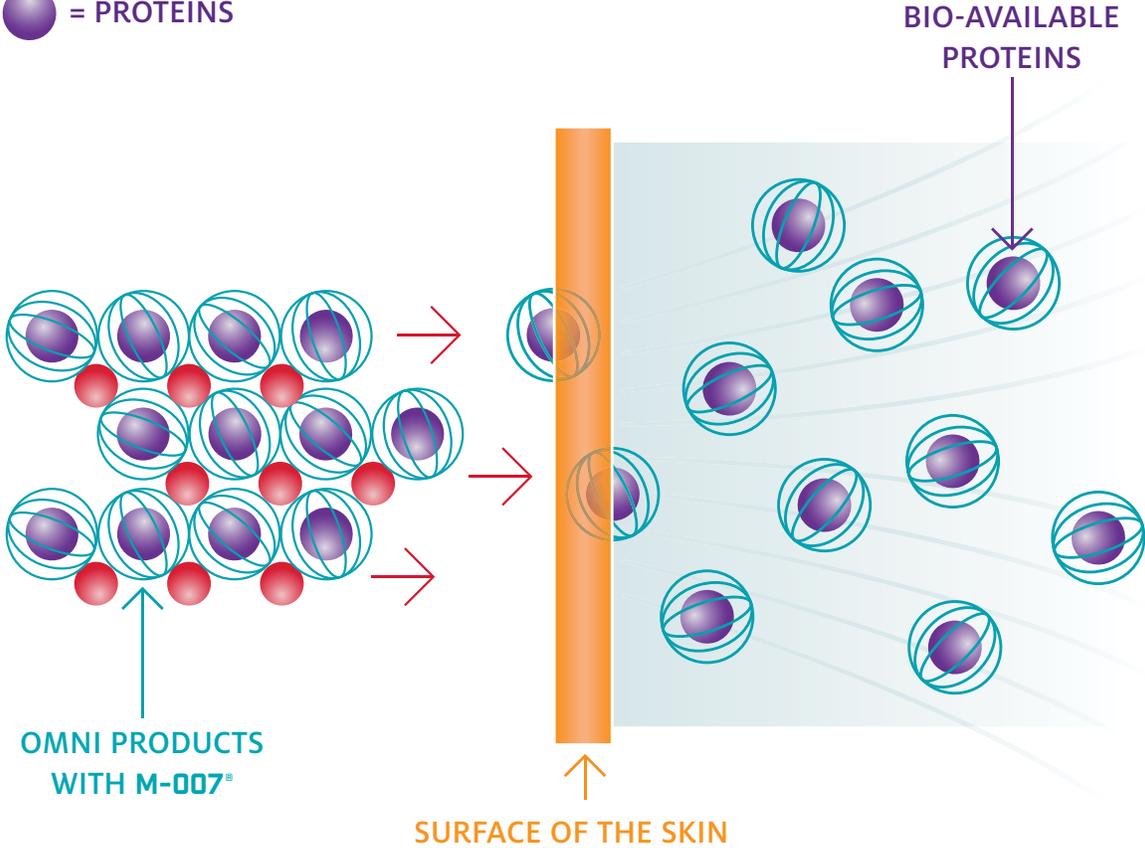

Even though our growth factor proteins act via a form of communication with the body's cellular structure, we wanted to amplify the bio-communication between these proteins and the skin's own receptors. To that end, we selected a target-specific signaling molecule that can enhance the bioactivity of most ingredients placed into it. M-007[®] is capable of absorbing 300 times its own weight without growing in size, thereby delivering its passengers – our quality ingredients – closer to their destination beneath the surface.

Not only does M-007[®] aid in the transfer of nutrients through the skin's surface, but it also makes them more bio-available as it increases the metabolism of proteins, supports optimum cell growth, and helps neutralize free radicals.

Physician Paired Solutions

Omni has pioneered post-treatment healing products to be used following ablative procedures performed in an aesthetician or doctor's office. These recovery solutions work in concert with aesthetic lasers, micro-needling, peels, and other ablative procedures to dramatically reduce downtime, aid in cell regeneration, and calm inflammation. While others are producing growth factor skin care lines, Omni's patented process produces targeted growth factors, including the highly anti-inflammatory TGF- β , while excluding those that cause inflammation.

Our unique growth factor-derived proteins are cultured with Human Platelet Lysate (HPL), thus providing the appropriate biologic, human signaling cues for cell growth, creating our exceptional serums.

Our Core Recovery Complex, Hair Restorative Complex, and Recovery Kit are all intended for use exclusively in conjunction with purposeful injury procedures. The targeted growth factor proteins help facilitate the healing process and greatly improve the results from these procedures.

Core Recovery Complex

Improves skin tone and texture when combined with physician-assisted ablative procedures.

TaC Core Recovery Complex is formulated to specifically aid in the recovery of the skin following physician-assisted ablative procedures. This unrivaled serum of highly concentrated, targeted growth factor proteins and cytokines is the keystone of Omni's science-based product line. With over 99% growth factor concentration, and employing our patented HPL process, this serum is unparalleled in the industry.

BENEFITS

- Speeds recovery time
- Reduces inflammation
- Minimizes irritation
- Reduces redness and heat

Can be used post laser, micro-needling, and peels.

Clinical Hair Restorative Complex

Promotes healthy hair re-growth when combined with physician-assisted hair growth treatments.

TaC Hair Restorative Complex is formulated to specifically aid hair restoration or hair growth treatments. This restorative complex encourages the scalp to replenish hair follicles, allowing for normal and healthy hair re-growth. Prepared with select, targeted growth factor proteins that are naturally present in healthy young hair follicles, it is enhanced by protective rare oil extracts, which may help maintain the health of lustrous, fuller hair. Employing our patented HPL process, this serum is unparalleled in the industry.

BENEFITS

- Boosts hair growth
- Improves hair quality and thickness
- Can be used by men and women

Can be used post laser and micro-needling.

Recovery Kit

Magnifies the improvements in tone, texture, and anti-aging benefits produced by ablative procedures.

A personalized solution in one easy-to-use kit, Omni has combined Core Recovery Serum with 4 of the best at-home products for follow-up care after ablative procedures. In addition to Omni's patented growth factor products, we are proud to have partnered with biO2 Cosmeceuticals and have exclusive use of its Amino-Plex[®], one of the most studied groups of amino acids in the form of a gentle cooling spray. This kit also contains a gentle cleanser, an occlusive balm for post-procedure protection, and a moisturizing boost recovery mask.

BENEFITS

- Significantly reduces inflammation and dryness
- Encourages rapid recovery
- Provides cool, refreshing relief
- Greatly reduces downtime

Can be used post laser and micro-needling.

Skin Health Solutions

Omni's Treatment and Care (TaC) home products support our Physician Paired Solutions and are also excellent as stand-alone products for daily care and maintenance.

As with all Omni product lines, our Skin Health line uses only superior ingredients including the highly anti-inflammatory TGF- β growth factor family proteins, tri-peptides, and Binterin (CD-99). Each ingredient is carefully selected and included purposefully with an aim at specific results. For example, the peptide Binterin (CD-99) suppresses skin inflammation and provides soothing relief from a variety of skin irritants, including sunburn and environmental stress. It is for these reasons that Binterin is used in our Boost and Tattoo Recovery Masks.

Our Facial and Eye Serums feature our unique growth factor-derived proteins as well as humectants, forms of Vitamin C and E, antioxidants, and moisturizing properties. Our Eye Serum also contains specific peptides intended to reduce the appearance of wrinkles.

At Omni, not only are we focused on repairing and maintaining the skin, but we are also adamant about stopping damage before it starts. That's why we believe every skin maintenance program must include a high quality sun-blocking agent. We offer our Sun and Environment Protection to meet this everyday need.

Restorative Daily Facial Serum with M-007[®]

Supports and encourages skin's natural healing mechanism revealing its more youthful skin structure.

TaC Restorative Daily Facial Serum with M-007[®] is a cell building serum that supports the regeneration of collagen and elastin by utilizing targeted human growth factor proteins. Now formulated with M-007[®], a patented delivery molecule, this new technology binds and transports growth factor proteins below the surface of the skin so they become more bio-available. This transformative serum should be the foundation of an effective, daily skincare regimen and may be suggested by your physician as part of a post-treatment recovery protocol.

BENEFITS

- Supports regeneration of collagen and elastin
- Anti-inflammatory
- Revitalizes tired, dull skin

For optimum results, use twice daily.

Omni Culture & Who We Are

We believe that science is beautiful in many ways.

We are so often asked by our seasoned peers and friends: “I know I need to do something, I just don’t want a face lift.” But the real and often unspoken question being asked is: “How do I remain relevant and vital in my community of friends, peers, and family as I age?” The consideration really isn’t about vanity, but relevance. As we live longer and work longer, the need to youthfully age and appear vibrant requires we put our best face forward. That’s what inspired us to create these solutions.

Beyond our medical aesthetic industry, you’ll note the importance of our community collaborations. Community is a vital ingredient to our Omni formula. Omni supports the Southwest Autism Research & Resource Center (SARRC) and First Place AZ, both non-profits supporting the lifelong needs of individuals on the autism spectrum. At Omni, we are creating jobs and supporting those of all ages who also want to be relevant, valued and vital.

We are driven by a shared passion for new, innovative discoveries, a love of entrepreneurial spirit, belief in our ambitious mission, and our friends and families.

Thank you for your support of our science and products. Together, we’re enriching beautiful minds, spirits, and skin everywhere.
